

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Praise and gratitude are always offered to Almighty God for His abundant blessings and mercy, which have guided and sustained the researcher throughout the study at the University of Nias and the completion of this undergraduate thesis entitled “An Analysis of Higher Order Thinking Skills (HOTS) in the Reading Exercises of the Textbook ‘English for Nusantara’ for the Eighth Grade of Junior High School Based on Bloom's Taxonomy.” Indeed, every success and experience in life is a result of the great love and grace bestowed by the Lord.

Another biggest and special appreciation is dedicated to the researcher's beloved parents, the late Jernihman Zebua (father) and Animardin Zai (mother), who have never stopped supporting the researcher in all aspects and fulfilling the researcher's needs from childhood until the completion of this education at this institution. Their love, sacrifices, and continuous guidance have nurtured the researcher to grow and become a better person throughout life.

This undergraduate thesis is completed as a requirement to fulfill the researcher's study in the English Education Study Program at the University of Nias. Throughout the process, many challenges arose, but the researcher received continuous support, guidance, and encouragement from numerous valuable individuals. Therefore, the researcher would like to express sincere appreciation and gratitude to:

1. Mr. Delipiter Lase, S.E., M.Pd., as the Acting Rector of the University of Nias, for his leadership and dedication in supporting academic and research development at the university. His commitment to improving the quality of higher education has greatly contributed to my academic journey and the completion of this research.
2. Mr. Dr. Yaredi Waruwu, S.S., M.S., as the Dean of the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, for his invaluable support and encouragement. His leadership and efforts to improve the quality of education within the faculty have greatly inspired the researcher in pursuing this research.
3. Mr. Afore Tahir Harefa, S.Pd., M.Hum., as the Chief of the English Education Study Program, for his consistent guidance, support, and efforts in providing a conducive learning environment for students to develop academically and personally.

4. Mr. Riswan Zega, S.Pd., M.Hum., as the Secretary of the English Education Study Program and the second examiner of this undergraduate thesis, for his assistance in academic administration and for his constructive feedback during the thesis examination, both of which have greatly supported the completion of this research..
5. Mr. Trisman Harefa, S.S., M.Pd., as the researcher's thesis advisor, for his invaluable guidance, insightful feedback, and constructive suggestions throughout the preparation of this undergraduate thesis. His expertise and patience have played a crucial role in shaping the quality of this work.
6. Mrs. Nursayani Maru'ao, M.Pd., as the first examiner of this undergraduate thesis, for her valuable time, suggestions, and encouragement that have contributed greatly to improving the quality and academic value of this research.
7. Mr. Elwin Piarawan Zebua, S.Pd., M.Pd., as the researcher's academic advisor, for his guidance, support, and continuous encouragement throughout the researcher's academic journey. His attention and advice have helped the researcher stay focused and motivated during the study period.
8. All of the lecturers in the English Education Study Program, for their dedication to imparting knowledge and wisdom that has greatly enhanced the researcher's understanding of education and research. Additionally, the researcher extends gratitude to all lecturers at the University of Nias for their contributions to the researcher's academic journey.
9. Mr. Arkian Zebua, S.Pd., as the headmaster of SMP Negeri 1 Gunungsitoli Barat, for granting the researcher permission to conduct the research at the school. His commitment to educational development and openness to collaboration have significantly contributed to this research.
10. Mrs. Diniati Rahmat Zebua, S.Pd., as the teacher collaborator, for her valuable assistance, cooperation, and insights throughout the research process. Her willingness to provide guidance has been essential in obtaining meaningful results.

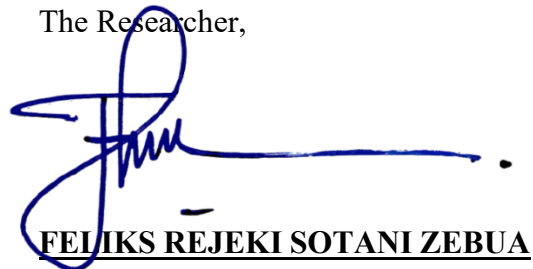

11. The researcher's beloved family, whose endless love, prayers, and moral and financial support have been the foundation of the researcher's strength and determination. Their belief in the researcher's potential has always encouraged the researcher to strive for excellence.
12. The researcher's friends, for their unwavering support, constructive discussions, and motivation. Their companionship and collaboration have made this journey more meaningful and enjoyable.

The researcher hopes that all the individuals mentioned above will always be blessed with good health, happiness, and continued success in their personal and professional lives. May their kindness, support, and contributions be rewarded abundantly by God.

The researcher realizes this undergraduate thesis's imperfections and welcome constructive feedback for improvement. The researcher hope it contributes to English Education and inspires further research on higher-order thinking skills in educational materials.
